LEVELS OF COSMETIC MEDICAL CARE

1 NONINVASIVE

2 MINIMALLY INVASIVE

3 MODERATELY INVASIVE

4 SURGICAL

AESTHETICS

The American Society of Plastic Surgery has identified 4 Levels of Cosmetic Medical Care performed in thousands of medical practices and medspas in the United States. The key therapies and procedures for each level include:

LEVEL 1: Noninvasive cosmetic procedures—or spa treatments—are therapeutic and relaxing, designed primarily to reduce blemishes and revitalize and protect the skin.

Common Treatments include:

- Facials
- Body Wraps
- Cellulite Treatment
- Massages
- Hydro Therapy

LEVEL 2: Minimally invasive treatments even out our skin tone, increase cell turnover, promote cell growth, remove unsightly veins or abnormal hair growth, and stimulate collagen production to help the skin retain its softness and reduce the appearance of lines and wrinkles.

Common procedures include:

- Intense Pulsed Light, or IPL®
- Light skin peels
- Hair removal
- Microdermabrasion
- Spider vein treatment
- Treatment of leg veins

LEVEL 3: Moderately invasive procedures, while nonsurgical, are neither risk-free nor a substitute for plastic surgery.

Common procedures include:

- Injection therapy with Botox®, soft tissue fillers
- Deep chemical peels
- Laser skin resurfacing
- Nonsurgical skin tightening

LEVEL 4: Surgical or invasive procedures reposition our tissue and restore lost volume to rejuvenate our faces. Body contouring can reduce fat deposits, lift sagging skin, and shape our arms, hips, and thighs.

The most common surgical procedures can be grouped in 3 categories:

1. Face (surgical repositioning and volume restoration)
 - Facial rejuvenation—eyelid surgery, forehead lift, facelift, and neck lift
 - Facial implants
 - Ear surgery
2. Breast — breast lifts, augmentations, and reductions
3. Body Contouring — liposuction, tummy tucks, and arm, thigh, and body lifts
